

Editor's Welcome

The parents among you will know the old saying "There comes a time when you've got to let them go". Thankfully, for our offspring, this merely means cutting the apron strings and letting them make their own way in the world. However, the same saying has a completely different meaning for horse-owners and a great many owners find it too unbearable to contemplate – so they put their animals on loan instead.

If you have such a strong emotional attachment and morale sense of duty to your old horse or pony that you feel they deserve a new home you should be prepared to commit to dedicating as much time to selecting and monitoring an appropriate loan home as you would to their last day on earth. Get references, verify them, get to know the loanee, if needs be do your own research on them, sometimes the internet can be quite revealing, draw up a contract, you can write your own or get a solicitor to draw one up for you, have the contract witnessed, visit your horse regularly and keep in touch. If you can't find the time or inclination to do this for your old faithful friend you have to ask yourself if loaning is really for you?

Safe loaning is not a quick-fix, short-term solution to be used as a substitute for making the final decision over your horse's future. Even with the best will in the world you could still fall foul of unscrupulous characters. One such unfortunate family have set up a website to log all the horses missing on loan in Britain in tribute to their two old horses. You can read their sad story and log your own missing horse here <http://missinghorsesonloan.webs.com/>

Horses Let Loose on Roads

There has been a series of worrying incidents around Sway concerning horses. In some cases, the horses have been let out of their fields - even directly on to roads. In other yards, there have been intruders who have run off before doing any harm. However recently a stallion was let out after midnight and after a fraught 3 hours was found galloping along the road near Scats, he is pure black so would have been difficult to see in a car and mercifully he didn't get quite as far as the main road. The mare with him, however, was less fortunate and had to be put down beside the road.

All horse owners are advised to be extra careful locking fields and stables and to investigate any disturbances after dark.

Equine Road Accident - Court Result

Below is the court result from a Road Traffic Collision last year, in June 2008, in the New Forest. What Happened? A driver of a car ran over a New Forest foal and failed to stop. As a result of good investigative work by an Equine Liaison Officer the driver was prosecuted and the case went to court.

The result was:-

6 points

£900 fine

£60 costs

£15 victim surcharge.

Attempted Tack Room Break-in

44090184830 - Burglary - The Eleda Stables, Somerley, Ringwood. Between 17:30hrs 29th April 2009 and 0748 30th April 2009 there was an attempted break into the tack room that is at the front of the property by person(s) unseen and unheard who tried to gain entrance into the building by smashing two windows and also cutting through one of the metal poles that was inside the window. This property was subject to a break a couple of months ago and a lot of items were stolen. As this area is close to Dorset, Wiltshire borders do not assume that the persons responsible are local to Ringwood...thieves will travel to steal!

Suspicious Female

The following is for readers information with a warning attachment to be wary of strangers.....

An incident recently occurred at Sparsholt College, near Winchester. A woman approached the horse owners who were standing by their horse box and started asking questions about their horse. She asked whether he was a thoroughbred, how big was he, what was his name, where did we get him from, as she asked these questions she was writing the responses down!! She asked where the owners were from and asked the name of the yard!!! The informant said "it is not unusual to have people say things about her horse as he is very handsome but this made me worry as she was writing the information down".

As always be wary and cautious of strangers taking an interest in your property. This incident was in Hampshire but could happen anywhere. Remember when at shows etc lock your vehicles and don't leave property lying around. If possible, leave someone "on guard". Simple advice but not surprising how many people don't take the most simple precautions!!

Youths Chasing Horses

RMS 44090181499 Date 27th April 2009, Eyres Down Farm, Burrigde

If you have any information about this or similar incidents in that area please contact Linda via 0845 045 45 45 and ask for Park Gate Police Station.

Sat Nav – Distraction Crime

Please be aware that distraction criminals are becoming more creative, which in some ways must be good news because so many of us are becoming wise to their ways. Here's their latest ruse to be watch out for:

During the last week of April in the Totton area, near Southampton a mobile dog groomer parked her van outside of her customer's house. She got out and immediately walked alongside it to fetch something from the back before activating the locking system. At no time did she leave the vehicle out of sight, much less unattended.

A man approached the lady and started asking about how much to groom a dog. Whilst he had her attention his mate opened the driver's door and took the Tom Tom Sat Nav worth £150! Both men left before the lady realised what had happened. So watch out for this simple but oh-so-very-sneaky ploy and if approached by somebody posing as a possible customer activate your central locking before continuing the conversation.

Occasionally a company will contact businesses stating you or a member of staff had previously agreed to advertise in their magazine or police diary and requesting payment of their invoice for about £150.00. This is a well-known scam. The police or fire service will never tout for advertising. Another approach is to say they are supply books to local schools on drugs or road safety. Most of these scams originate from a Northern telephone number.

Also I have been contacted by some concerned farms regarding the apparent decline in Crime reports to Farms together with details of suspicious vehicles etc. Your local police officers are now running the ringmaster message system. Training is ongoing and if you are not receiving information which is useful or relevant then I am sure your local station will be pleased to hear from you. My new role is one of support to local teams. However I have noticed these few crimes which are as follows:

- Burglary to a diesel tank in Beaminster 5 May. An alarm foiled the theft. Barns have been entered and quad bikes uncovered. I believe the offenders vehicle has been recovered and enquiries are ongoing.
- East Stoke Wareham forced entry to outbuilding and a drum of diesel stolen 29/30 April
- Lodors Dorchester theft of agricultural vehicle and search of barns 2 May
- Stoke Wake several North Country Mule sheep stolen 25/40 April
- Three Cross Wimborne break to shed on farm. Petrol stolen. 3/4 May
- Chickerell Weymouth barn broken into generator stolen 2 May
- Washpond Lane theft of electric fence unit. Third theft.

Rugs Stolen

Between 9.30 - 17.00 on the 26th April 2 purple horse rugs were stolen from a farm in Kempley, Newent, Gloucestershire. The rugs had been taken from a field at the farm. Please be mindful, rugs left out during the day in the corner of a field or on a gate, are leaving themselves open to opportunist thieves!

Many thanks

Can You Help Find Toby?

A Shropshire woman has made a desperate plea for help in tracing her beloved horse nearly three years after he was taken by thieves. Lynn Walker said she had never got over the loss of Toby, a distinctive brown, white and black gypsy cob horse, since it was stolen from a field along Hem Lane and Halesfield 1 in Telford in June 2006. Thieves cut through a fence and took the valuable 16-year-old horse. Mrs Walker believes the horse was stolen to order as five other horses in the same field were left behind.

“Even though he was stolen three years ago, we are still looking for him. We have had him on television twice since then and he’s on the internet and Horse Watch members are looking out for him. I’ve not given up hope. I will never stop looking for him,” she said. The devastated horse lover said they had also put Toby on an American website because at the time of his theft there was a holding field in Bristol for stolen horses before they were shipped to America.

Mrs Walker said she was not being unrealistic in her search three years on as stories on the internet included ones which saw owners be reunited with their horses up to 11 years later.

“Somebody may have bought him at some point not knowing he was stolen. He is microchipped so I can prove that he is mine. I just need to make people aware of his significance and look out for him,” she added. “I will never give up looking for him. I think he was pinched from the field, kept where nobody would see him and then sold on. Whoever may have him now will have hopefully looked after him properly because he was an older horse but they may have just bought him unaware of where he was stolen from.” Police can be contacted on 0300 333 3000.

RURAL WATCH UPDATE 24/04/09

Trailers are hot property at the moment, with nearly one stolen every day. The most local was in Harvington on 24th April.

There isn’t much saddlery being stolen at this time but it’s only an ‘opportunity’ away. Don’t be complacent, lock all tack rooms and property mark your tack with your postcode or Smartwater. I can advise on both if you give me a call.

5 Quad bikes stolen force wide. Again if you have one keep it out of sight if you can and mark the wiring with Smartwater. You can always just paint it with your postcode in huge letters so that no one would want the trouble of stripping it down to re sell.

There was an attempt theft of a horse in Gwent on 9 April. The offenders were seen and disturbed but be cautious and if you see anyone suspiciously hanging round, take the index number of the vehicle, persons description and ring us immediately. No horses have been reported as stolen in the West Mercia Force area.

THIS BIT IS VERY IMPORTANT

We have recently had a male calling on rural properties (most likely farms) stating he has lost his dog, he cannot find the footpath or that he has seen kids throwing stones at livestock in and around the fields. He is trying to get you...the occupant of the house to leave it unattended whilst he or his accomplice goes inside and helps themselves to your belongings. If you feel you are being distracted in any way, do not leave the premises, secure all entrances/exits and call us immediately. The latest incident was in Droitwich on 23 April.

Thanks, Gail.

[WELCOME TO SHROPSHIRE COMMUNITY MESSAGING - Shrewsbury - Shropshire Community Messaging Horse Watch]

Police recently attended an auction centre near Bridgnorth where a large amount of tack was being offered for sale. On this occasion they were unable to ascertain whether any of the items were stolen as none appeared to be personalised or security marked. Police do advise owners of expensive tack to personalise their items or use a security marking device such as Smartwater.

SUBJECT: Quarterly report on Equine Related Crime in South Yorkshire

The overall figures for Equine related crime are up this quarter by 52% compared with the same period for 2008 as can be seen from the table below. The exception is Sheffield, who have a slight decrease. Rotherham had no offences last year for this time period, but has had 6 offences this year. The overall value of the property stolen has increased 8.47% from the previous year.

District	2009		2008
	Offences	Value	Offences	Value
Barnsley	3	£6,600.00	3	£8,590.00
Doncaster	10	£19,765.00	6	£13,900.00
Rotherham	6	£8,408.00	0	£0
Sheffield	4	£2,710.00	6	£6,372.00
TOTAL	23	£37,483.00	15	£28,862.00

The following table shows the distribution of the offences throughout January to April for each year.

	2009				2008
	Jan	Feb	Mar	Apr	Jan	Feb	Mar	Apr
Barnsley	0	2	1	0	0	1	2	0
Doncaster	3	2	4	1	1	3	1	1
Rotherham	1	0	1	4	0	0	0	0
Sheffield	2	1	1	0	1	1	2	1
TOTAL	6	5	7	5	2	5	5	2

As can be seen below, tack still remains the most popular items stolen as most is not identifiable and is relatively easy to dispose of at markets, car boot sales, auctions, newspapers and the internet. The same problem relates to trailers thefts.

Postcoding of tack and trailers would help immensely in tracing recovered property back to the owners.

Rugs stolen from Whiston in April, which were identifiable, as they were postcoded, were recovered apparently dumped at Harthill.

HORSE ATTACKS

January 2009, Racecommon Lane, Barnsley.

Staffordshire bull terrier raced up to horse ridden by female, which made it jolt and thrown rider. The dog then attacked the horse, which required 6 stitches. Female owner of dog witnessed what happened.

March 2009, Branton, Doncaster.

Overnight, a section of barbed wire fencing has been cut on perimeter fence and pulled across field and tied around a post in centre of the field. The next morning, they have discovered that one of the horses has walked into this wire and cut one of its rear legs quite badly, requiring stitches. It would appear that the intention was deliberately cause harm to the animals.

MISCELLANEOUS

Request for help - Hi Joanne - I have copied below some brief info from our website which gives an over view of the Local access forum, at the moment we have no representatives for Equestrian interests, it would be great if we could get someone local involved as one of the many issues we come across is improving bridleway links throughout the borough, and other associated problems on the network. My contact details are at the bottom of this email. Once again, thanks for getting and touch and fingers crossed someone will out themselves forward.

The Doncaster Local Access Forum was created in September 2003. Its purpose is to provide advice to Doncaster Council and Natural England on the implementation of the new rights introduced by the Act and how to make the countryside more accessible and enjoyable for open-air recreation.

The Forum represents the interests of everyone who lives, works, or just enjoys the countryside including landowners, farmers, business, health, heritage, nature conservation, sport including water sport, forestry, the less able, trade unions, transport and all recreational interests. The Council believes that a balanced forum, representing all interests, should play a vital role in the future of our open spaces. However at present we have no representatives with equestrian interests.

The Forum has 14 members, 2 of whom are Doncaster Council elected members. Members are appointed to the Forum following a selection process. The Forum currently meets approximately 4 times per year. Meetings are advertised in advance and open to the public. The public may ask questions on the business of the meeting at the discretion of the Chair.
